

Friday, 14th June

IV. Crossing borders – transferring cultures

13:30–13:55

Christian Lübke

Individuals crossing borders

13:55–14:20

Miljenko Jurković

Cultural transfers on the Adriatic from the 5th to the late 8th century in their political context and the question of "Adribyzantism"

14:20–14:30 Discussion

14:30–15:00 Coffee break

15:00–15:25

Drago Roksandić

Approaching early modern Croatian history: "Triplex Confinium" vs. "multiple borderlands"

15:25–15:50

Nedim Zahirović

Trading activities between the Habsburg and Ottoman border provinces

15:50–16:15

Gábor Kármán

Inside or outside? The border status of the Ottoman tributary states as reflected by the diplomatic ceremonies in Istanbul

16:15–16:30 Discussion

16:30–16:45 Summary

Saturday, 15th June

Excursion

Excursion to the historical sites and fortresses on the frontier line of the Venetian Republic and the Habsburg and Ottoman empires

Organized by

GWZ
Geisteswissenschaftliches Zentrum
Geschichte und Kultur Ostmitteleuropas an der Universität Leipzig

INSTITUT ZA POVIJEST UMJETNOSTI

Sponsored by

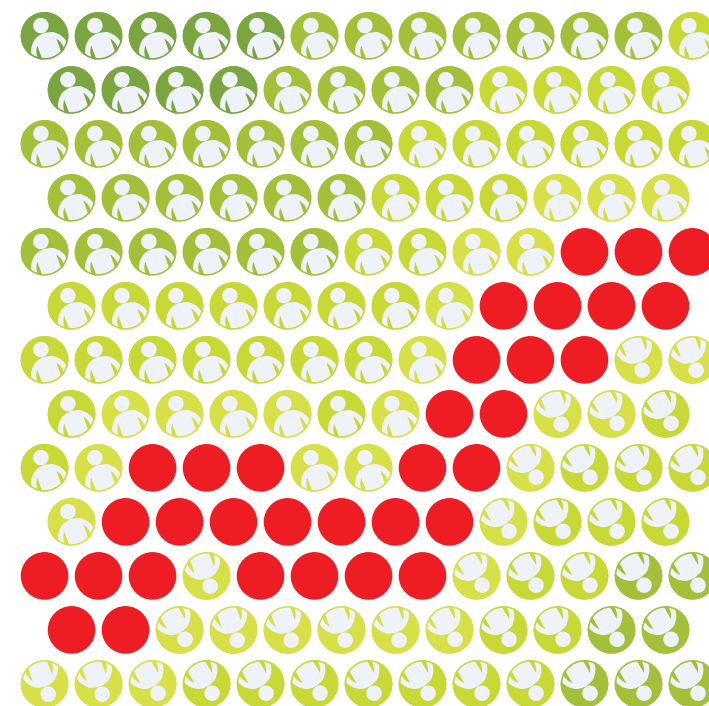

Bundesministerium für
Bildung und Forschung

MINISTARSTVO ZNANOSTI,
OBRAZOVANJA I SPORTA
REPUBLIKE HRVATSKE

Frontiers

in East and South Central Europe

Perception, Expansion and Protection of Borders
from Antiquity to the Early Modern Period

International conference

Split, 13th–15th June, 2013

Muzej grada Splita
Papalićeva ulica 1

Thursday, 13th June

I. Perception and representation of boundaries

09:00–09:30

Milan Pelc, Marina Dmitrieva

Introduction

09:30–09:55

Joško Belamarić

Diocletian's palace: The Orient or Rome – A monument revised, boundaries of style reconsidered

09:55–10:20

Milan Pelc

The meaning of boundaries in art history

10:20–10:45

Marina Dmitrieva

Limitrophic art history: the topos of “antemurale” in scholarly perspectives on Orthodox church art in Galicia and Wolhynia (1890s–1950s)

10:45–11:00 Discussion

11:00–11:30 Coffee break

11:30–11:55

Christian Zschieschang

Borders in their toponymic manifestation – Slavic place names in the Early and High Middle Ages

11:55–12:20

Robert Born

Cartographic representations of the Habsburg-Ottoman border (16th–18th century)

12:45–13:00 Discussion

13:00–14:30 Lunch break

Thursday, 13th June

II. Strategies of appropriation and expansion

14:30–14:55

Roman Grabolle

The Egerland (Czech: Chebsko) between the Bavarian March of the Nordgau, the Holy Roman Empire under the Hohenstaufen and the Kingdom of Bohemia (11th – early 13th century)

14:55–15:20

Marcin Wołoszyn

Cherven Towns - on the crossroads of the expansion of Poland and the Early Rus'

15:20–15:45

Undine Ott

Rus' vs. steppe. A frontier?

15:45–16:10

Gilles Grivaud

Greeks becoming Muslims during the 15th and the 16th century: some remarks

16:10–17:00 Discussion

19:00 Dinner

Friday, 14th June

III. Marking boundaries - protecting frontiers

09:00–09:25

Daniel Syrbe

Roman borders – Roman frontiers. Different settings and changing concepts from the Early Empire to Late Antiquity

09:25–09:50

Orsolya Heinrich-Tamaska

Concepts of the border along the Danube during the Roman and early medieval times – some aspects

09:50–10:00 Discussion

10:00–10:30 Coffee break

10:30–10:55

Matthias Hardt

Borderline of an empire: the Eastern frontier in the time of Charlemagne

10:55–11:20

Sabine Altmann

The “Limes Sorabicus” and the region along the River Saale as an early medieval frontier between the Frankish Empire and the Slavic Sorabs

11:20–11:45

Neven Budak

Early medieval boundaries in Dalmatia/Croatia (8th–11th centuries)

11:45–12:00 Discussion

12:00–13:30 Lunch Break